How HOPE Can Help

HOPE will:

- Maintain up-to-date resources based on a person's needs/wants for supports or services
- Provide all levels of voluntary and consent-based supports and services
- Coordinate with Tacoma Police Department and Designated Crisis Responders for involuntary detention supports and services

What is the difference between a behavioral health emergency and a behavioral health crisis?

A behavioral health emergency is a life-threatening and emergent need for behavioral health related help. Help is provided in-person and may include medical care. Callers use 911 to request support.

A behavioral health crisis is a non-life-threatening and urgent need for behavioral health related help. Help may be provided over the phone or in-person. Callers use the national/regional crisis and suicide line numbers listed on the back of this card.

Who to Call for Behavioral Health Support

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH EMERGENCY

CALL 911

When a person appears to be a danger to self, others, or gravely disabled. The caller can request the HOPE team for immediate in-person support and intervention. If available HOPE will respond, if unavailable traditional 911 resources will respond.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH CRISIS

CALL/TEXT 988

When a person needs phone support and intervention.

CALL 800-576-7764

When a person needs phone support and intervention and where they or a community member can request an evaluation by a Designated Crisis Responder (DCR) or an in-person outreach by a mobile crisis team.

TEXT 741-741

For suicide text support and intervention.

16

Community Collaboration/Data Collection

HOPE leadership coordinates with state, county, and local community members, groups and providers including:

- Volunteers of America Western Washington (988)
- An Intentional Response (AIR) Coalition
- Tacoma-Pierce County Department of Health
- MultiCare, and more
- Holds a seat on the Crisis Response Improvement Strategy (CRIS) Committee

Data collection:

- Aligned with the Behavioral Health Administrative Service Organization (Carelton) and the WA State Health Care Authority requirements for alternative response and crisis programs
- Also aligns with the Association of Washington Cities grant requirements
