6. Discussion/Updates

a. DEI Subcommittee Planning for 2024

(33:20)

Commissioners continued discussion on how to set up the DEI Subcommittee for success in 2024. Staff shared ranked priorities and feedback about subcommittee priorities, based on survey responses received from Commission members.

Commissioners discussed; thoughts shared include:

- Considering how the subcommittee will be run and who will select and guide discussions. How will it operate within the Commission and what tasks do they want to take on? There needs to be boundaries to the scope of the subcommittee's work.
- Whether membership on the subcommittee should rotate to encourage participation from all Commission members.
- Discussing DEI as a regular part of Commission meetings.
- DEI work should be inherent in everything the Commission does; is there a need for a subcommittee specific to DEI or could there be multiple ad hoc subcommittees to address individual topics, using a DEI lens, as they come up?
- Grounding conversations in the needs of artists and creative community and how to support those needs. The DEI subcommittee can then work on how to implement what is needed to move the work forward.

Commissioner Joe Williams presented on the recruitment process for the Division Manager. Applications were received from 128 people; of those 34% were from BIPOC applicants and 1 in 3 were from applicants who live out of state.
