Six-Year Comprehensive Transportation Improvement Program Update
[Jennifer Kammerzell and Darius Thompson, Assistant Division Managers;
Ramiro Chavez, Director, Public Works]

At approximately 12:01 p.m., Ramiro Chavez, Director, Public Works (PW), provided a brief overview of the Six-Year Comprehensive Transportation Improvement Program and introduced Jennifer Kammerzell and Darius Thompson, Assistant Division Managers, PW. Kammerzell presented background, noting the relationship between the Comprehensive Plan, Transportation Master Plan, and subarea and neighborhood plans; major changes, noting project removals and additions; and issues, including grant opportunities and City grant match funding. Thompson continued with the South Yakima Avenue signal and safety improvements, revitalizing Tacoma brewery district Phase 1, mobility and safety improvements at South 56th Street and Pacific Avenue, multilingual street name signs, and the capital projects website application. Kammerzell concluded with next steps.

Discussion ensued regarding how often amendments are required; funding and grants, including Safe Routes to Schools; mapping tool overlaying with the City's Equity Index; Northeast Tacoma, noting Transportation Master Plan; and mobility and safety, noting South 56th Street and Pacific Avenue, Bus Rapid Transit, and Americans with Disabilities Act temporary improvements.

1. 24-0484 Charter Review Committee Final Recommendations Report Review
[Mayor Woodards]

At approximately 12:28 p.m., Mayor Woodards provided opening remarks on the Charter Review Committee final recommendations report, noting a full day retreat will be scheduled instead of multiple weekday meetings. Chris Bacha, City Attorney, continued with the difference between changes done to the Charter versus done by ordinance, noting any Charter changes need to be passed by a vote of the people. Mayor Woodards concluded with timeline process, structure, and complexity.

Discussion ensued throughout regarding support for the one-day retreat; outdated language; adding language in the Charter to allow Council the authority to correct grammar and punctuation; commissions in the Charter, including reserving authority to be descriptive on the makeup and purpose; concept and core purpose of the Charter; proposed Council amendments to the Charter at a general election; provisions within the Charter that conflict with state laws; Council recommendations that do not need further review; recommendations that need further review and discussions, noting a panel discussion and context from staff and experts; the plan to hold a joint Public Utility Board study session to discuss Tacoma Public Utilities related recommendations; length of discussion per recommendation; referendum process in coordination with ordinance enactment; recommendations that can be passed by ordinance; Council proposed amendments; recommendations the Council is not interested in putting on the ballot, noting the amount of recommendations put on the ballot; and low complexity Charter review recommendations, including Humane Society, eligibility for employment, and employment anti-discrimination language.
