SUBJECT: Resolution – Amending Resolution No. 40570 – Setting the Tideflats Interim Regulations
Public Hearing for May 5, 2020
DATE: March 30, 2020

SUMMARY AND PURPOSE:

A resolution amending Resolution No. 40570 relating to the Tideflats Interim Regulations Public Hearing, to change the public hearing date to Tuesday, May 5, 2020.

BACKGROUND:

On May 9, 2017, the City Council adopted Resolution No. 39723 initiating a subarea planning process for the Port/Tideflats area. In addition, the resolution requested the Planning Commission consider the need for interim regulations in the Tideflats area while the subarea planning process is under way.

The Planning Commission determined the interim regulations were warranted, and on October 4, 2017, the Commission forwarded its recommendation to the City Council for consideration. In support of these deliberations the Commission conducted a public hearing, at which 81 people testified, and reviewed over 200 written comments.

Following its own public hearing, and substantial community input and deliberation, the City Council, on November 21, 2017, adopted the Tideflats Interim Regulations by Amended Ordinance No. 28470, which includes the following elements:

- Category 1: Expanded public notification of heavy industrial use permits;
- Category 2: Temporary prohibition of new non-industrial uses in the Port of Tacoma Manufacturing and Industrial Center;
- Category 3: Temporary prohibition of new residential development along Marine View Drive and northeast Tacoma slopes; and
- Category 4: Temporary prohibition on certain types of new heavy industrial uses.

On November 13, 2018, following another public hearing, substantial community input and deliberation, the Council passed Ordinance No. 28542, which extended the Tideflats Interim Regulations for another six-months.

On May 21, 2019, following another public hearing, substantial community input and deliberation, the Council passed Ordinance No. 28583, which extended the Tideflats Interim Regulations for another six-months. The current ordinance is set to expire on December 2, 2019.

On November 12, 2019, following another public hearing, substantial community input and deliberation, the Council passed Ordinance No. 28619, which extended the Tideflats Interim Regulations for another six-months. The current ordinance is set to expire on May 2, 2020.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT:

Ordinance No. 28619 is a temporary measure that places restrictions on certain types of new development activities in the Port of Tacoma Manufacturing and Industrial Center as well as other areas of the City that allow heavy industrial uses. The ordinance does not affect existing uses, but rather, prohibits new non-industrial uses in the tideflats, certain new heavy industrial uses, and new residential platting in Northeast Tacoma, adjacent to the Port/tideflats. The ordinance is intended to put a pause on these specific uses and development activities through the duration of the Tideflats Subarea Planning process. The Subarea Plan will include broad and diverse community engagement as well as an area-wide Environmental Impact Statement to evaluate the impacts of potential growth and development of the Manufacturing and Industrial Center both on those uses in the Center, but also the surrounding communities.

The Tideflats Interim Regulations were adopted through a legislative process that included broad community input. The public notice and engagement was documented in the Planning Commission’s Findings and Recommendations Report, available online at www.cityoftacoma.org/tideflatsinterim. Subsequently the ordinance has been re-authorized through a public process on three prior occasions.

2025 STRATEGIC PRIORITIES:

Equity and Accessibility:

This ordinance is a temporary pause on certain uses and development activity for such time as the City and partner governments can conduct the Tideflats Subarea Planning Process. The Subarea Plan will include a rigorous environmental review, include equitable community engagement, identify probable impacts of development in the Tideflats and whom will be predominantly impacted. Upon the completion of that analysis, the process will identify alternatives for Council consideration as to how to mitigate those impacts.

Explain how your legislation will affect the selected indicator.

The Tideflats Interim Regulations are a temporary pause on certain types of new uses and development activities, not a final ordinance. The regulations limit the conversion of industrial lands to non-industrial uses and prevent additional residential encroachment on existing industrial areas. The Findings of Fact supporting the interim regulations recognize the critical importance of maintaining industrial lands for employment growth that is accessible to Tacomans as well as the environmental and cultural resources of that area. In addition, the Subarea Plan will provide a high opportunity for community engagement in planning for the long term future of the tideflats. The Subarea Plan will be inclusive of underrepresented communities in the planning process and provide an open and transparent legislative process in partnership with the Port of Tacoma, Puyallup Tribe of Indians, City of Fife, and Pierce County. The process is intended to increase trust between the five governments as well as increase trust and confidence in planning processes among Tacoma's business and residential communities.

ALTERNATIVES:

At the time of re-authorization, the City Council may consider amendments to the ordinance. However, there are no alternatives under consideration at this time.

EVALUATION AND FOLLOW UP:

The Interim Regulations pause specific types of uses and development activities during the development of the Tideflats Subarea Plan. The Interim Regulations allow existing uses to expand. During the re-authorization process, staff will be providing periodic reporting on permit activity to ensure the effectiveness of the Interim Regulations.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION:

Staff recommends the City Council conduct the public hearing on May 5, 2020.
