ACLU-August 21, 2021

"After looking at the details of ShotSpotter's system, we didn't think it posed an active threat to privacy, but we were concerned about the precedent it set (and others agreed)." Jay Stanley, ACLU Speech, Privacy and Technology Senior Policy Analyst met with the CEO of shotspotter and changed his tune. Stanley agreed in the article, If we are worried about microphones listening to us, throw away your cell phones! Jay - the ACLU - says, "I am not losing sleep over this technology at this time."
