COPY: Economic Development Council;
PRESENTER: Cameron Proudfoot, President & CEO
SUBJECT: Understanding the Fuel Supply and Demand within the greater Tacoma area
DATE: August 14, 2018

PRESENTATION TYPE:
Informational Briefing

SUMMARY:

Facilities involved in the production and or distribution of transportation fuels have been the subject of increased public scrutiny and debate; particularly given the growing concern with air quality and climate change. In evaluating policies affecting the local energy ecosystem in a region experiencing rapid growth, policy makers and the public will benefit from additional information regarding the current state of transportation fuel supply and distribution. The City seeks more information to understand the impacts of potential proposed and future regulations pertaining to fossil fuel infrastructure and how said regulations could impugn future progress vis a vis cleaner fuels.

BACKGROUND:

At the request of City Council Member C. McCarthy, Cameron Proudfoot, President & CEO will share and explain the fuel supply and demand along with projections of traditional fuel supply within the greater Tacoma are, state and county.

ISSUE:

City of Tacoma would like to gain a better understanding of energy uses within our community
