Briefing Items

1. 21-0988 Youth and Young Adult Violence Reduction Program Update
[Vicky McLaurin, Community Services Manager; Renee Johnson, Systems Analyst, Neighborhood and Community Services]

At approximately 4:32 p.m., Vicky McLaurin, Community Services Manager; and Renee Johnson, Systems Analyst, Neighborhood and Community Services, presented on the Youth and Young Adult Violence Reduction (YYAVR) program, including an overview, a YYAVR project overview, funding allocation, program performance measures and outcomes, and next steps.

Discussion ensued regarding a request for a list of accomplishments with current funding; getting more resources and funding for the YYAVR program; collaboration between the involved organizations; diversity, equity, and inclusion requirements; the Boys & Girls Club of America Community Advisory Board; future funding sources; what is needed to make a significant impact; and recognition for the work of staff.

2. 21-0989 Transformation Update
[Tadd Wille, Deputy City Manager; Brian Maxey, Senior Consultant, 21st Century Policing Solutions]

At approximately 4:55 p.m., Tadd Wille, Deputy City Manager, introduced Brian Maxey, Senior Consultant, 21st Century Policing Solutions. Mr. Maxey presented the systems transformation update, including the beginning stages; initial stakeholder and resource identification; the City and community's vision of the program goals; deconstructing goals into accomplishable steps; working with the complexities of the process, noting personnel, budgeting, and scope; determining what the City has already done; work with City departments; considering work completed by other jurisdictions; Tacoma's desire to be at the cutting edge of transformation; short terms goals, noting developing alternative response models for homelessness, mental health, and crime; integration of county-level work; and designing a comprehensive community safety program.

Discussion ensued regarding increasing transparency and accessibility, continuing to involve the community, and showing that the City is responding to community requests.
